

Extent of Dental Services Desired

Once your pet is under anesthesia, your doctor will perform a complete oral exam and carefully check teeth and gums. During this comprehensive oral exam, we may find one or more teeth that need to be extracted for health reasons. If extractions are necessary this would be in addition to the initial treatment plan that was presented. Should any unforeseen dental procedures be necessary and desirable in the veterinarian's professional judgment:

- I prefer that you proceed with all necessary dental procedures.
- I prefer to be called before any additional procedures, other than emergencies. If I cannot be reached, I authorize you to proceed with all necessary dental procedures.
- If I cannot be reached by phone, I do not authorize any unforeseen dental procedures.
